A USEFUL PAIN

Norway People Should Head It

Warning

Have you a sharp pain or a dull ache across the small of your back? Do you realize that it's often a timely sign of kidney weakness? Prompt treatment is a safeguard against more serious kidney troubles. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Profit by a Norway resident's experience.

Mrs. W. J. Olmstead, 95 Main St., says: "My kidneys began to give me trouble as they were weak. My back ached so badly I could hardly get through with my housework and everything I undertook to do seemed to drag. I was dizzy and could see star-like spots before my eyes. My feet and ankles swelled. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills being so good and sent for some. When I had finished taking them, I felt as well as ever. The backache ceased and my kidneys became regulated. I have told a number of people about Doan's Kidney Pills and never fail to recommend them."

How To Use Vick's VapoRub For Deep Grippy Colds

First It Is Very Important That a Thorough Rubefacient Or Counter-Irritant Effect Be Produced On the Surface Of the Skin Around the Lungs

This Draws the Blood From the Congested Lungs and Lessens the Danger of Pneumonia.

THEN TREAT WITH VICKS

Deep, grippy colds, frequently leading to pneumonia, have been unusually prevalent this winter. In some sections they are called influenza, but are so much milder than the influenza cases during the first epidemic that health authorities have not agreed as to whether these cases are all due to the same infection, or even whether there has been any real influenza.

"Flu" Germ Discovered

New light has been thrown upon these matters by the announcement by Dr. So-non Flexner, director of the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research, that the germ of influenza has been identified. The Institute staff, through experiments on rabbits, has found how this germ injures the lung tissue so that it is no longer able, as it is in health, to destroy the common bacteria of the nose and throat that cause bronchitis and pneumonia.

Dr. Flexner also says, "Recent reports received from abroad and from points in the United States indicate that a secondary wave of epidemic influenza, relatively mild in character, is passing over parts of Europe and America."

The Danger is From Pneumonia

It, therefore, behooves anybody who develops a deep, grippy cold to take his case seriously and work fast if all danger of pneumonia is to be avoided. What is needed is something to decrease the congestion of the lungs. For this purpose there is nothing like a rubefacient or counter-irritant, as witness the use of blistering, poultices and plasters for generations. This counter-irritant reddens the skin—draws the blood from the congested parts to the surface; the circulation is improved; there is a sense of warmth and the possibility of pneumonia is greatly lessened.

Quick Counter-Irritant Needed

The value of this counter-irritant effect is greatly increased if it is produced quickly. Nearly every family has its favorite method—onion poultices, turpentine stupes, mustard plasters and poultices of various kinds—all are good.
A very simple method is to apply towels wrung out in hot water, as hot as the patient can stand. This not only reddens the skin quickly, but also opens the pores so that more Vicks can be absorbed.
Some, however, prefer to use an ordinary mustard plaster, as the reddening effect lasts longer.

Parts To Be Treated

Whatever method is used, the application should be applied over the throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. In very deep colds, the sides and especially the back from the middle of the shoulder blades to a point just above the waist, should also be treated.
The patient should be given a good purgative and, if convenient, a hot mustard footbath for ten minutes—one tablespoon of mustard to a gallon of water.

Rub Vicks In, Then Spread On

After the skin is thoroughly reddened, it should be dried lightly and immediately the patient should be given a brisk massage with Vicks all over the parts.
Continue this for five minutes. This increases the counter-irritant effect. Then apply Vicks thickly over all the parts; that is, spread it on as you would a poultice—about one-sixteenth of an inch thick or more—and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths.

Vicks Acts in Two Ways

Thus applied Vicks has a double action. First, Vicks is so made that the body heat gradually releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. The more Vicks applied, the stronger will be the vapors and the longer these vapors will last. The night clothing should always be loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel.
These vapors being lighter than air, rise up from the chest and, if the bed clothing is properly arranged, pass by the nose and mouth and are thus inhaled with each breath, carrying the medication directly through the air passages to the lungs.

The second action of Vicks is external —by absorption through and stimulation of the skin.

Repeat From the Beginning

When the vapors begin to lose their strength, fresh Vicks should be applied over the throat and chest. This to keep up the continuous supply of vapors. When the redness of the skin dies out, all the Vicks remaining should be wiped off and the entire treatment repeated. That is, the hot wet towels or mustard plasters should be used until the skin is again thoroughly reddened, then massage with Vicks, spread on thickly and cover with hot flannels, just as previously done.

When the Patient Coughs Up

Sometimes when the patient is badly choked up, the vapors from the application on the chest are not sufficient to make the breathing easier. In these cases drop a tablespoonful of Vicks into a kettle of boiling water and allow the patient to inhale the warm steam and vapors combined for about 10 minutes. Do this several times a day if needed. Keep the water boiling and put in additional Vicks whenever the vapors decrease. Put a sheet over the patient and the tea-kettle, making a kind of a tent.

Must Be Used Freely

This is vigorous treatment, but to check congestion requires vigorous measures.
Vicks must be used freely to be effective.
The cost of the treatment is insignificant compared with the results which are frequently obtained.

Does Not Take the Place of the Physician In all cases a physician should be called. These deep colds are too serious and have too many complications to rely entirely on any home medication. Vicks, however, does not interfere with any treatment that the doctor may prescribe.
In addition the formula of Vicks is given on every circular, so there is no reason why any doctor should object to its use, except the fact that a few physicians do not care to use anything which is advertised directly to the public.

A Pharmacist's Discovery

Vicks VapoRub is the discovery of a North Carolina pharmacist. From the back room of a little drug store its use has grown until today literally tens of millions of families are never without the familiar blue jar. It is their standby for all forms of cold troubles and, in addition, is useful for the many minor ailments of the home. It is particularly a boon to mothers with small children, because it is externally applied.

Over 17 million jars are used yearly in the United States alone.

Returned From Hospital
Clyde Stevens returned home Saturday, February 10th from the Central Maine General Hospital at Lewiston, where he has been since early in November. Clyde went hunting in the forenoon and not seeing any game thought he would climb a tree to see if he could sight any. While doing so he accidentally dropped his gun which went off and the shot entered his leg below and came out above. Not returning at six o'clock several neighbors went in search of him but went in the opposite direction from that Clyde had taken. Although Clyde was merely one and one half miles from home and not able to walk he showed great courage. By the training of the Boy Scouts he took off some of his clothing and tore it in pieces and bandaged his leg which was a great aid to his hurt. In spite of the cold he crawled on his hands and knees within hailing distance of his home, where he called for help. Vinton Tibbetts and Warren Brooks being the first ones to reach him. He was carried to his home as quickly as possible where they immediately called Dr. Willard of Bryant Pond. Upon his arrival he rushed Clyde to the hospital reaching there about one o'clock in the morning. He has showed the greatest of courage throughout the four months which he has been there and is now able to walk with the help of crutches. He hopes soon to be able to return to his studies at Gould's Academy where he was attending at the time of the accident. He is very grateful to all who have been so kind to him during the four months.

INVEST FOR PROFIT-- but be sure you get it

Which will profit you most:

1. To invest some of your money in a Maine power company, where your investment will help to bring higher prosperity and lower taxes to your home state, or

2. To invest your money in the upbuilding of some southern or western state, where it can perhaps squeeze out for you an extra half of one percent?

Think this question over before you invest.

Don't invest in home power company securities for "patriotic reasons." Don't do it unless you yourself can see how you will benefit more and profit more by developing Maine than by developing the South and West.

If you are in a position to share in Maine's prosperity, then buy Central Maine Power Company 7 per cent. Preferred Stock—and help to develop Maine's greatest resource—water power. The price of the stock is $107.50 a share, the yield 6 1-2 per cent. net.
